"I said of course I would," Morton reported. "I'm at his

The Kentucky senator said he will work to achieve a unified Republican team in every state.
He said he anticipates no diffi-

Nixon also telephoned four governors who were Rockefeller supporters: John Chafee of Rhode Island, John A. Love of Washington.

Ellsworth said all four

Nigerians Advancing on Hungry Biafra

By ARNOLD ZEITLIN
Associated Press Writer
LAGOS, Nigeria (AP) —

Nigerian troops advanced today
on the temporary Biafran capital of Aba with both prongs of a pincer movement reported making progress toward the secessionist headquarters.

A high officer said a commando column led by Col. Benjamin Adekunle had crossed the Imo River 15 miles south of Aba and occupied Akwete, a settlement
on the northern bank.

The lead column of the other pincer was believed across the river at the Imo railway station, 22 miles from the city.

The drive appeared aimed at bringing the 13-month-old secession of eastern Nigeria's Ibo tribesmen to a quick military
end. But the Biafran leader, Lt.
Col. Odumegwu Ojukwu, has pledged that his people will retreat into the bush and wage guerrilla warfare.

An estimated 6,000 troops
from Nigeria's 3rd Marine Division were reported committed to the attack on Aba. The city some 40 miles inland is the largest of the three major towns
still in rebel hands.

Ojukwu's secessionist army
now holds only about one third of the 29,000 square miles he proclaimed independent in May 1967.

In Addis Ababa, the deadlocked peace talks switched to discussion of relief supplies to starving war refugees. There was no indication of any progress in the session Wednesday night, but various sources voiced expectation of a break soon.

Informed sources said Ethiopian Emperor Haile Selassie would sound out both sides on a compromise proposal for funneling in the supplies. Diallo Telli, Guinean secretary-general of the Organization of African Unity, said an agreement might be reached by the weekend.

Swiss diplomat August Lindt
of the International Red Cross
said the Biafrans have proposed establishment of a neutral airstrip on Biafran territory under control of the all-Swiss Red Cross committee. "I expect an answer very soon from the federal government in Lagos," said Lindt.

He said all such flights must be under Red Cross control.
Other organizations would have to lend their planes to the Red Cross, he said, "but they will get full credit."

The Red Cross suspended its mercy flights last week when the Nigerians began shooting at them, but a few planes chartered by Caritas, the Roman Catholic charity organization, have continued to run the blockade, flying at night.

Showers Are Menu for Arkansas

Scattered thundershowers activity is expected to continue over Arkansas through Friday
as a high pressure system moves across the state.

No change is expected in the hot and humid temperatures.
Rainfall activity was reported over most of the state during the 24-hour period that ended
at 7:30 a.m. today. Pine Bluff had 2.58 inches in a short period
Wednesday afternoon.

Low temperatures reported around the state this morning
ranged from 70 degrees at Fayetteville and Harrison to 76 at Fort Smith. Highs Wednesday ranged from 84 at Walnut Ridge and Harrison to 92 at Fort Smith.

"Well, the world can be grate-

"Is this your bill—or just the

"We first suspected there was on the left side we saw Kitty

"As soon as he finds out that "I don't want our television

Questions Legality of Curfew

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A question has been raised whether curfew violation charges filed against 31 persons here can be used to convict and fine them
when their cases are heard Sept. 19.

Municipal Court Judge Milton
McLees said he was not sure
the proper charges were filed.
The judge asked three questions:

—Is there a valid state law
concerning curfew violations?
—If there is no statutory law,
is there common law covering the situation?

—Will the prosecution be required to provide proof on the validity and imposition of any law that might have been violated?

McLees asked Deputy Prosecutor Bryon Bogard to research
the law and provide a legal memorandum answering his questions.

Bogard expressed the opinion
Wednesday that there is no
state statute covering situations such as the curfew that was proclaimed by Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller during the racial disturbances in Little Rock.

G. Thomas Eisele, the governor's legal adviser, said Wednesday that the curfew proclamation stands on shaky

More Major Mass Changes

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
VATICAN CITY (AP) — Another major change in the Roman Catholic Mass went into effect today, with priests given the option of using any of three new canons.

The canon is the central part of the Mass and contains the consecration, which the Church teaches is the transformation of bread and wine into the body and blood of Christ.

The long litany of saints has been dropped from the new canons, and the language has been modernized to go with responses
from congregations in the vernacular.

One canon is about the same length as the old one, but the other two are considerably shorter.

legal ground, but said he expects the courts to back the governor.

"We are not in as solid a position as we would like," Eisele said. "But we felt it wise to act on the basis of the information furnished the governor by local law enforcement officials."

Rockefeller placed Pulaski County under three nights of curfew after racial disturbances broke out Friday night in Little Rock following a memorial service for a young Negro who was beaten to death Aug. 2 at the county penal farm.

Chances of Fortas Deal Still Blow

By G. DAVID WALLACE
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — A Republican bloc in the Senate thinks Richard M. Nixon's selection to head the GOP ticket struck a severe blow to President Johnson's Supreme Court
nominations.

Basis for this is the belief that Nixon's selection blunted support of the nominations by Senate Minority Leader Everett M.
Dirksen and other leading GOP senators.

Nixon has declared his opposition to letting Johnson make the nominations.

One member of the opposition bloc said in a series of telephone interviews Wednesday that Republican support "can be expected to go underground" when Congress reconvenes next month.

"Would Everett Dirksen be willing to lead the fight against his own party's nominee?" said another source.

Dirksen was outspoken in his support last month of Johnson's nominations of Abe Fortas as chief justice and Homer Thornberry
to become an associate justice.

During one session of the Senate Judiciary Committee he criticized the term "lame duck"
being applied to Johnson as "entirely improper and offensive."

And he strongly took to task
Sen. Robert P. Griffin of Michigan who heads the opposition forces.

But a Dirksen aide said
Wednesday that the Republican leader does not plan to actively pursue support of Fortas and Thornberry.

"I'm sure he will not force the issue," said the aide, adding,
however, that he did not regard this as a change in Dirksen's position.

One question mark among Republicans backing the nominations is how Kentucky's Thurston B. Morton will vote now.

Morton was one of the original signers of a petition circulated by Griffin which declared Johnson was a "lame duck" president and had no right as such to make the nominations.

Morton later withdrew his name and declared he was for the nominations. Now he has announced he will join the Nixon campaign actively after Labor Day.

He could not be reached for comment.

Congress is to go back in session Sept. 4. With Griffin's forces indicating they are ready to filibuster confirmation of the nominations, it could be a long session.

Majority Leader Mike Mansfield has said he'll keep the Senate in session all year, if necessary, until the nominations are confirmed.

PEACE TALKS

man William J. Jordan told a news conference Wednesday after the weekly session of the talks.

"If North Vietnam wished to convey to us some meaning (about the purpose of the lull),
they could do so readily, directly or indirectly, and so far we have had no indication whatsoever."

Jordan did not say whether U.S. Ambassador W. Averell
Harrison has ever asked Ambassador Xuan Thuy or his deputies whether the lull has significance. U.S. officials say the question has not been put directly in any of the formal sessions,
but they decline to say whether it has been raised in private conversation with the North Vietnamese during the coffee breaks at the meetings.

Nguyen Thanh Le, the North Vietnamese spokesman, declined to be drawn into discussion of the issue.

Gibson Gets 14th in Row to Halt Cubs

Associated Press Sports Writer
Hurry up and unfold, Satchel.
The Atlanta Braves' pitching
staff needs help fast.

The Braves signed elderly
Satchel Paige earlier this week and the club's pitchers haven't been the same since.
Cincinnati joined the Braves
7-4 Wednesday night, collecting 11 hits. That gave the Reds 30 hits and 16 runs in two games against Atlanta and if ever a situation called for Satchel, the Braves have it.

"I don't know what I can do
now," said Paige, who needs 158
days to qualify for baseball's pension plan. "I'll have to get out there and unfold first."

Paige's unfolding timetable
calls for him to go on the Braves' active roster Aug. 23.
The question is whether the Atlanta pitching staff can wait that long.

Elsewhere in the National League Wednesday, New York
trimmed Los Angeles 4-1, San Francisco nipped Pittsburgh 2-1
in 10 innings, Philadelphia took Houston 4-3 and St. Louis stopped Chicago 3-1.

In the American League,
Washington dropped Minnesota 4-2,
Oakland defeated Baltimore 4-1,
Detroit shut out Cleveland 3-0, Chicago split a doubleheader with Boston, winning the first game 5-3 but dropping the nightcap 7-5, and New York beat California 5-2.

Mack Jones' three-run homer started the Reds' assault against the Atlanta staff in the fourth inning. Pete Rose singled and Alex Johnson doubled before Jones connected. An error and Pat Corrales' double gave the Reds another run before the inning was over.

Singles by Johnson and Tony Perez and doubles by Fred Whitfield and Corrales led to three wrapup runs in the eighth.
Felipe Alou homered for the Braves, extending his hitting streak to 19 games.

Jerry Kosman won his 16th game for the Mets, tying the club record established last year by Tom Seaver. The rookie left-hander scattered seven hits
as New York beat Los Angeles
for the 11th time this season.

Larry Stahl homered and Clemon Jones and Ed Kranepool
laced two hits apiece leading a 10-hit Met attack against Bill
Singer and two relievers.

Don Lock hammered a grand slam home run, accounting for all of Philadelphia's runs against Houston. John Bateman had a two-run shot and Jim Wynn a solo homer for the Astros.

Pitcher Chris Short opened
the third inning with a single against Houston's Denny Le-master and two outs later Rich
Allen and Roberto Pena walked, setting the stage for Lock's third career grand slam.

Willie McCovey scored the Giants' tying run in the seventh inning and then drove in the winner with a 10th inning single as Gaylord Perry stymied the Pirates on three hits.

McCovey's two out single delivered Bobby Bonds who had singled and moved to second when reliever Ron Kline walked Willie Mays with two out. The loss ended a 10-game winning streak for Kline and was his first setback since May 2.

Bob Gibson won his 14th straight game, beating Chicago and ending a seven-game Cardinal losing streak against the Cubs.

Gibson, 16-5, allowed eight hits and the Cards ended a four-game Chicago winning streak and boosted their National League lead to 13 games over the second place Cubs.

U.S. Open Champ Finds Right Putter

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer
HARRISON, N.Y. (AP) — Lee Trevino, the laughing Latin who became an instant celebrity
when he won the U.S. Open, had a new-old weapon in his arsenal
today when he set out in the first round of $250,000 Westchester Classic golf tournament.

It's a second-hand putter, a thick, battered looking piece of steel that is Lee's prize possession.

"It's just like the one I won
the Open with," said the stocky, swarthy Mexican-American from the border country of El Paso, Tex. "Having this is like coming home again."

"The putter I had in the Open was cracked all around here,"
he said, running his finger
around the steel near the blade.
"I was afraid it was going to fall part any time."

"Finally it did. Right after the Open. Just fell apart."

"In fact, I haven't used any of my Open clubs since then."

"I put 'em all in my trophy room and got a new set. That's the ones I've been using since.
But I couldn't find a putter like the one I had. Just found this one last week," he said, and gave it a gentle pat.

"I don't know what it is," he said on the practice green, running in putt after putt. "I just seem to have a better stroke
with this one."

It's interesting to note that he hasn't won since the Open. In seven tournaments, his best finishes have been a couple of ties
for sixth and he missed the cut
at the PGA championship.

So is he going to be a one-shot champion?

"I don't know, man," he said,
that infectious grin spreading over his face. "I never know if I'm gonna win. But I'm gonna keep showing up."

He was resplendent—as opposed to the sloppy garb he wore in the Open—in white shirt, bright green pants and matching green and white golf shoes.

"What's this?" he was asked,
"the Doug Sanders approach."
"Man, I'm coming up in the world," he said. "My wife can't stand it. She won't get out of bed until I'm dressed and gone.
Says she can't stand the sight of me."

"Really coming up in the world, repeated Trevino, who's very conscious of his Mexican-American background.

"They're giving me a dinner
up in Stamford, Conn. Got a big sign that says 'Welcome Home
Lee Trevino.' In Stamford, Connecticut!"

He grinned and shrugged.

"They'll probably have spaghetti and meat balls. I hate it.
But I'll eat it."

"Trevino," he said, raising and shaking his right hand with the fingertips touching in a typical Italian gesture, "Trevino, from the Old Country."

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — Arkansas football Coach Frank Broyles was chosen Wednesday to help direct action in the American All-Star bowl game
here Jan. 4.

Broyles and University of Tampa head Coach Fran Curci joined the staff of the South,
headed by Paul "Bear" Bryant of Alabama.

Pepper Rodgers of Kansas and Lee Corso, offensive coach
at Navy, joined head Coach Jack Mollenkopf of Purdue and Tom Cahill of Army on the North staff.

Two-a-Day Practices for Bobcats

By RALPH ROUNTON
Star Sports Writer

It was bright and early on yesterday morning, 8 o'clock to be exact, but 34 boys, who from now on will be regarded as the Hope Bobcats, ended their summer
"vacations" with the start of football practice.

The number was slightly below
the expected group of possibly over 40, but nearly everyone out
for football has had experience around HHS over the past couple of years. And they'll be going at it hard from now until school starts, as the coaches have already set up two-a-day with workouts beginning at 8:00 a.m.
and 4:00 p.m.

Until next Tuesday the squad will condition without pads, but that day has been designated by the Arkansas Athletic Association as the first day that any high school team may work out in full pads.

Concerning yesterday's practices, Head Coach Ronnie Higgins commented that "In general they were pretty good. The boys showed a lot of enthusiasm and they are in better shape than last year. We still have a few more coming out today and some are injured."

However, through yesterday's workouts no significant injuries were reported, even though the team is practicing on a wet, slick field, due to the recent rains.

B-teamers, or all those sophomores and juniors who are not starters, will get more experience
this year than ever before, with a nine-game slate on tap. This season starts on September 9
at Camden and runs each Monday night through November 11.
Opponents will include Magnolia,
Nashville, Stamps, Camden,
Prescott, and Arkadelphia.

Line Depth Evident for the Steelers

By IRA MILLER
Associated Press Sports Writer
LATROBE, Pa. (AP) — A year ago, Coach Bill Austin of the Pittsburgh Steelers recalls, he didn't have an experienced offensive tackle on the squad.

Today, five players are fighting for the jobs.

The same depth is evident at guard, and other positions—
particularly on the line—and Austin, himself a former offensive lineman, figures this is one reason for the Steelers will start the long climb upward.

Pittsburgh, which has never won a championship in the National Football League, should be improved along the line, in the running department, and on defense.

But the Steelers still have an unproven quarterback back, and because of that, may not do much better than last year's 4-9-1.

A back injury has thrown Dick Shiner out of the running and given the quarterback job
to second-year man Kent Nix.
Nix took over last year when an injury sidelined Bill Nelsen.

The strong Steeler defense will have to be at its peak to survive and if it does, it may have a genuine shot at the Century Division title.

Speedy Don Shy, with a year's experience behind him, and Earl Gros, recovered from a knee injury, should be better as the running backs. J. R. Wil-born, presently sidelined with a hand injury, and Roy Jefferson give the Steelers two deep receiving threats.

But there are plenty of tackles and guards, perhaps even enough to trade for the other quick back Austin wants or the kicker he desperately needs.

Mike Taylor and Ernie Ruple,
the top two draft selections, are pressing veteran tackles Mike Haggerty, Fran O'Brien and John Brown for jobs. At guard, Bruce Van Dyke, Sammy Davis
and Larry Gagner all are veterans.

John Hilton and Chet Anderson both return at tight end while Dick Compton gives another wide threat, Dick Hoak, Bill Asbury and Jim Butler are veteran running backs and rookies Rocky Bleier and Byron McCane are pushing them.

The kicking game needs definite improvement with Bill Shockey, trying to replace placekicker Mike Clark, who was traded to Dallas after threatening to quit.

Defensively, the Steelers are strong as usual.

The front four are Lloyd Voss, Ken Kortas, Chuck Hinton and Ben McGee, and all are five-year veterans. Jerry Mazzanti and Dick Arndt are the No. 3 men at end and tackle, respectively.

Tiger Coach Just Slips in Mickey

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Mayo Smith has a perfect put-down for those American League die-hards who keep trying to twist his Tigers by the tail. The Detroit skipper simply reaches into his new bullpen
bag and slips them a quick Mickey.

Mickey Lolich, who couldn't finish what he started a month ago, hurled 5 2-3 innings of scoreless relief Wednesday night and picked up his fourth victory in nine days as the first place Tigers flattened Cleveland
3-0.

The swift southpaw scattered three hits and struck out five in his longest relief stint since Smith sent him to the bullpen in late July. He has defeated Cleveland and Boston twice and each for an 11-7 season mark and has not given up a run in 15 innings, beginning Aug. 6.

In beating the Indians for the sixth time in seven games over a nine-day stretch, the Tigers regained a seven-game lead
over the second place Baltimore Orioles, who bowed to Oakland 4-1.

Elsewhere, Washington
topped Minnesota on two home-ers by Frank Howard; Boston
split a day-night doubleheader
with Chicago, winning the second game 7-5 on Ken Harrel-son's slugging after losing 5-3 in the afternoon, and New York
whipped California 5-2.

In the National League, St.
Louis downed Chicago 3-1, San Francisco nipped Pittsburgh 2-1
in 10 innings, Cincinnati beat Atlanta 7-4, New York subdued
Los Angeles 4-1 and Philadelphia shaded Houston 4-3.

Lolich replaced Joe Sparna
in the fourth inning at Cleveland with the Tigers leading 1-0 on Bill Freehan's 18th homer. He stranded two runners and then stymied the Indians until the eighth, when a double play and center fielder Mickey Stanley's running, one-hand grab of a drive by Vern Fuller saved him
from a possible knockout.

"I started walking to the dugout," Lolich said. "When I looked up Stanley was still going back and the ball hadn't come down yet. I started to worry and kept right on walking,
because if it's over the fence
I'm out of the game
anyway... and I might as well
watch from the bench."

Freehan connected against Cleveland ace Luis Tiant, 18-8,
in the second and the Tigers added two runs in the sixth on Al Kaline's double, Gates Brown's single and a triple by Norm Cash.

Reggie Jackson smacked his 21st homer—a two-run sixth inning shot—to power the Athletics past Baltimore. Bert Campaneris, who hit safely in his 12th straight game, capped a two-run wrapup burst with a sacrifice fly in the seventh.

Howard, who had homered
earlier with the bases empty, drilled a 450-foot blast following two Minnesota errors in the ninth to carry the Senators from behind. Ron Clark booted Bernie Allen's grounder and Rod Carew made a wild throw to second on Ken McMullen's tap before Howard unloaded his 34th homer of the season.

Harrelson slugged a solo homer in the day game at Boston.
But the White Sox won it with a 15-hit attack while the Red Sox wasted 11 against winner Tommy John.

The Red Sox' slugger took charge under the lights, banging
a double, triple and a two-run homer, his 32nd of the year. After the White Sox out Boston's lead to 6-5 with a four-run seventh inning rally, Harrelson doubled, stole third and scored the insurance run on an overthrow by catcher Duane Josephson.

The Yankees surged to a 5-0 lead with the help of Bill Robinson's homer and a two-run single by Horace Clarke, then held off the Angels for a sweep of the three-game series. Reliever Steve Hamilton checked a two-run California rally in the eighth, protecting the victory for rookie Stan Bahnsen.

Golfing Pros, PGA Dispute at Impasse

NEW YORK (AP) — The dispute between the Professional Golfers Association and the tournament professionals appeared to be at an impasse today, but PGA officials are keeping the door open for further negotiations.

The players broke with the PGA earlier this week when they announced that they would form an organization independent of the PGA at the end of existing tournament contracts.

The tour involves $5.6 million.
Gardner Dickinson Jr., chairman of the Players Tournament Committee, said Wednesday he felt a limit had been reached in negotiations.

However, Max Elbin, PGA
president, said, "I don't believe the PGA position has been fairly presented to the players. We would like to appear before a meeting of all the men so that we can present the facts of the case, I don't believe—when the issues are aired—that the situation is irreconcilable."

The players, though, are showing no inclination to bend.
They are seeking greater control of the tour. Unofficially, the players were reported to have told the various sponsors they would complete in the same tournaments as this year.

"The PGA knows what we want and has refused to budge," Dickinson said. "I honestly wish that we could get together, but it doesn't appear possible."

In Washington, William Rogers,
attorney for the PGA, said
the door is open for negotiation.
He said his client's position consisted of two points:

1. That the PGA tour must be jointly shared by the players and the PGA.

2. That the tour must be administered in a serious, businesslike way.

The 16-man PGA executive committee has called an emergency meeting Friday at the national headquarters in Palm Beach Gardens, Fla. Tournament sponsors have been summoned to a meeting in

Trades Made in Ranks of Pro Football

By BEN OLAN
Associated Press Sports Writer
Returning kickoffs in the National Football League isn't child's play, so the St. Louis Cardinals went out and acquired Clarence Childs, once one of the best in this important department.

The trade that brought Childs from the New York Giants to the Cardinals was one among several in professional football Wednesday.

In other transactions, the Cardinals traded veteran linebacker Jerry Hillebrand to the Pittsburgh Steelers for a high 1969 draft choice and sent Sam Siles, a defensive lineman, to the Giants for a 1970 draft choice.

The New Orleans Saints traded linebacker Dave Simmons to the Dallas Cowboys for an undisclosed draft choice, and dealt second-string quarterback Gary Wood back to the Giants for two undisclosed draft choices.

Childs, also a defensive back, was among the NFL's leading kickoff return artists until he lost his starting spot last season to rookie Willie Williams. Childs was among the top ten in his specialty during his first four years in the circuit, but slipped to 21st in 1967 with a 20.8 yard average for 29 returns.

Hillebrand, acquired by St. Louis from the Giants in 1967 for Bill Triplett, had been traded to the Minnesota Vikings earlier. However, the Vikings sent him back to St. Louis, apparently dissatisfied with a knee condition which limited Hillebrand's training.

Simmons, a four-year veteran, played in 11 games for the Saints last season. New Orleans obtained him from St. Louis in the Saints' expansion draft.

New Orleans' expansion draft also was a factor in the deal that sent quarterback Wood back to the Giants. The Saints had acquired him from New York in the 1967 expansion draft and, under NFL rules, a team cannot trade back a player to the club from which he was drafted.

So, the Saints placed Wood on waivers and then notified all other clubs that he was intended for New York. The Giants promptly grabbed him. Wood saw limited action for the Saints last year, serving behind Bill Kilmer and Guay Cuozzo. New Orleans obtained quarterback Karl Sweetan from Detroit Tuesday.

In another development, Gene Snipes, considered one of the Atlanta Falcons' top pass catching prospects when summer training started, was placed on waivers along with rookie receiver Jack Head and defensive back Floyd Hudlow. Snipes, the Falcons' sixth draft choice in 1967, was on the Falcons' taxi squad last year.

Elsewhere, the New York Jets of the American League cut running back Henry Owens, defensive back John Dockery and end Wayne Richardson. Boston of the AFL released John Housnum, a defensive tackle. Houston, also of the AFL, trimmed Bob Longo, a split end, Johnny Brunson, a rookie halfback, and Ed Mitchell, a guard.

Chicago Gang Leader Gets Prison Term

CHICAGO (AP) — The leader of the Blackstone Rangers street gang, Eugene Hairston, 24, has been sentenced to three concurrent terms of 5 to 15 years in prison for solicitation of murder.

Judge Louis A. Wexler imposed the sentence Wednesday in Circuit Court after hearing a South Side businessman and a clergyman appeal that Hairston remain free.

"You were the leader in a crime which to say the least was a vicious one," said Judge Wexler.

Hairston was convicted May 29 of paying six teenagers $1

State High Schools Open Grid Work

By TOMMY YATES
Associated Press Writer
LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Thousands of high school football players reported for conditioning drills throughout Arkansas Wednesday, the first day allowable under rules of the Arkansas Athletic Association.

Most of the coaches will run their hopefuls through two-a-day practices, usually morning and late afternoon to beat the heat, to physically condition them before contact drills are allowed.

Players aren't allowed to put on the pads until Monday, giving coaches two weeks-plus to get the players ready for Sept. 6, the opening night of the 1968 season.

The lineup in high school football this year shows a Class AAA division for the first time in the state's history and a playoff between the winners of the two Class AAA divisions.

The realignment is something many of the schools have long pushed for, but for the top classification, little is changed except the name since it is composed of the same teams which were in the old Central Division of Class AAA.

They are Little Rock Central, North Little Rock, Little Rock Hall, Horace Mann of Little Rock, El Dorado, Pine Bluff and Fort Smith Northside.

In the Class AAA West Division are Fort Smith Southside, Springdale, Texarkana, Fayetteville and Hot Springs. In the AAA East are Jacksonville, Little Rock McClellan, West Memphis, Helena, Jonesboro and Blytheville.

The trend in football throughout the nation has been to more passing, and Arkansas will be no exception, this fall, says Bill Stancil, coach at Fort Smith Northside, which is generally regarded as the 1967 state champion.

Northside rolled up 12 straight victories last season and finished on top of The Associated Press' high school football poll. Stancil, who had 71 players report for workouts Wednesday, said he thinks the AAA Division was scheduled to be "tougher and more balanced" this year.

Stancil said it would be a "pretty hard thing to do" to match last year's 12-0 record. "We'll try to play them one at a time and not worry about the overall results and just hope we have a good season."

Until that first game rolls around, though, the players will be run through the unglamorous fundamental drills of blocking and tackling.

each to shoot three men sitting in a packed car Sept. 12, 1967. Leo McClure, 33, was killed and two companions were wounded.

The gang leader was acquitted of one charge of murder and two charges of attempted murder. He has been free on $20,000 bond since the trial. The Rangers were the target of a recent investigation by a Senate subcommittee. The probe gathered testimony on the disposition of nearly $1 million granted by the Office of Economic Opportunity for use in the South Side neighborhoods where the gang operates.

Before his arrest last September, Hairston was a $6,500-a-year assistant for a federally financed job training program on the South Side.

Pine Bluff to Desegregate Completely

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP) — Harvey McGeorge, president of the Pine Bluff School Board, said Wednesday the board will desegregate all of its elementary and high schools at the beginning of the 1969 fall term.

McGeorge said details of the plan would be announced later.

The action follows the Department of Health, Education and Welfare's refusal in July to accept a new desegregation plan that the board intended to place into effect in 1969.

This plan provided for one high school for all white and Negro students and the total integration of the elementary grades as soon as possible.

McGeorge said HEW has agreed to permit Pine Bluff to continue its freedom-of-choice plan this year and will not withhold federal money.

did not name anyone, "will try to use it to divide America... to excuse their failure to deal constructively with other urgent social needs."

Republican vice presidential nominee Spiro T. Agnew said Wednesday law and order should not be confused with the civil rights issue.

"There is no inconsistency," the Maryland governor said on returning home, "in being for civil rights and against violence."

Discounting reports he was selected the GOP vice presidential nominee to appeal to Southern voters, Agnew said:

"My record speaks for itself. I am not a racist. I have never been a racist. I have done more for the Negro than anyone who has ever held this office. Any kind of racism must be repudiated..."

Republican presidential nominee Richard M. Nixon also is preparing to return home—New York City—from San Diego and he plans his first series of campaign appearances as the GOP candidate along the way.

Aides say Nixon will make a public appearance in Springfield, Ill., Monday morning. He also plans appearances in Lansing, Mich.; Harrisburg, Pa.; and probably one other city on the two-day trip from San Diego beginning Sunday.

Nixon also has scheduled party-harmony meetings with Govs. George Romney of Michigan and Raymond P. Shafer of Pennsylvania during the trip.

On the Democratic side, Sen. George S. McGovern said in Cherry Hill, N.J., he would accept the vice presidential nomination if it were offered at the Democratic National Convention. But he said he would rather be re-elected a senator from South Dakota if he does not win the party's presidential nomination.

Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy proposed a national housing policy that would help minority groups rebuild their central city neighborhoods, and make it possible for them to live in suburbs near the centers of new jobs.

"Those who would rely totally on private industry to rebuild the inner city are perpetuating a misconception," McCarthy said in Washington. "The fact is that private industry has almost never built low-cost housing for low-income families."

Humphrey issued a new call for an "open convention" Wednesday in what aides said would be the surest road to Democratic unity later. But Alard Lowenstein, a leader of a group of anti-Vietnam war policy Democrats, protested they were being denied even peripheral participation at the convention.

Both Humphrey and McGovern, meanwhile, called for elimination of traditional floor demonstrations at the Democratic convention in Chicago starting Aug. 26. Humphrey called the demonstrations "phony." McGovern called them "boring."

Southern Democratic party leaders have announced plans to support one of seven men for the vice presidential nomination, suggesting the move would unite the South behind the Democrats' national ticket.

Their list includes Govs. John Connally of Texas, Buford Ellington of Tennessee, John McKeithen of Louisiana and Robert McElair of South Carolina; former Govs. Carl Sanders of Georgia and Terry Sanford of North Carolina, and Sen. George Smathers of Florida.

Third party presidential candidate George C. Wallace returns to the campaign trail with stops at Hammond, Ind., Friday and Fort Wayne, Ind., Saturday after five days at home.

Tests Cause LBJ No Public Concern

By FRANK CORMIER
Associated Press Writer

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Whatever doctors told President Johnson in their report on recent elaborate medical tests, it's causing him no apparent public concern.

Johnson, understood to have gotten the gist of the report in the last day or two, looked ready and rested and was in his "bounciest" form Wednesday when he made his first speech-making appearance of the month.

At times he even sounded like the candidate for re-election he's vowed not to be.

Disclosure last week that Johnson is afflicted with a chronic intestinal ailment, diverticulosis, prompted some concern about the state of his health. Unease was not allayed when he went to San Antonio's Brooke Army Medical Center Monday for further tests or when the White House firmly refused to rule out surgery as a possibility.

Diverticulosis is not disabling and Johnson's doctors hastened to emphasize he was suffering no discomfort. However, the ailment can develop into something more serious—when inflammation occurs—and in that form sometimes requires surgery.

In his speech to the 73rd annual convention of the mostly Negro National Medical Association, Johnson departed from his text frequently to plug the accomplishments of his administration.

He noted the high federal positions—including cabinet secretary and Supreme Court justice—he filled with Negro appointees.

"We have appointed more black judges than all of the other 35 presidents combined," he said.

Later, Johnson removed his reading glasses and received a warm response from the audience when he ad libbed: "... as you emerge and make progress, as you open the sores and wounds to the sunlight and as the wind goes against them, the tender spots break out. Seeking freedom is not always a pleasant task."

"I hope we will make it so in this country that we don't have to violate laws and we don't have to be guilty of breaking the peace and we don't have to endanger health and life for us to get justice."

"Every law," he said, "ought to be fair and equal for everybody—from the president to the street sweeper and vice versa. We are marching and moving in that direction."

As he left the crowded ballroom of Houston's Shamrock Hilton Hotel, Johnson leaned across a low railing and, with a big grin and wave of the arm, announced: "When the roll is called up yonder..."

He stopped there. But his listeners clearly were aware of the closing words of the hymn: "When the roll is called up yonder, I'll be there."

One could have guessed Johnson was a candidate for another White House term, especially when he announced in his speech he would be working hard for "Kiddycare"—medical attention for expectant mothers and infants in the first 12 months of life—"in the years ahead."

When press secretary George Christian was asked how the President would accomplish this without seeking re-election, the reply was a smile.

173 Americans Killed in Week of War

SAIGON (AP) — The number of enemy reported killed in the Vietnam war increased last week by nearly 200, while the total of Americans who died in action increased by two over the previous week. The number of South Vietnamese troops dropped markedly.

The weekly casualty report today again demonstrated the continuing toll in the war which has been going on since late June.

The U.S. Command said 173 Americans were killed in action last week, compared with 171 in the previous week. The number of U.S. wounded went down to 788 compared with 1,050 a week earlier. It was the lowest number of wounded since the last week of 1967, when there were 437. Of those wounded last week, 447 were hospitalized and 341 did not require hospitalization, the command announced.

A total of 26,634 Americans have been killed in action from Jan. 1, 1961, through Aug. 10, the weekly summary said, while 162,968 have been wounded. Of the latter, 87,916 required hospitalization.

The U.S. and South Vietnamese commands said 1,642 of the enemy were killed last week and as usual added that this figure was "subject to adjustment." In the previous week, 899 enemy had been reported killed but today that toll was raised to 1,461.

The U.S. Command said that enemy casualties from Jan. 1, 1961, through last week totaled at least 377,711 killed.

South Vietnamese headquarters reported 178 government troops were killed last week, as compared with 250 a week earlier. The number of wounded last week was 839, up from 738 in the previous week.

Russian Move Considered Pressure Play

By HOWARD BENEDICT
AP Aerospace Writer

VIENNA (AP) — Is the Soviet Union seriously challenging the giant Intelsat space communications network with its proposal to establish a global network of communications satellites? Or is it putting pressure on Intelsat to substitute a one-country, one-vote policy for American domination?

Several hundred space experts from 73 other nations studied the Russians' Intersputnik plan today at the second session of the U.N. Conference on Exploration and Peaceful Uses of Outer Space. Most interpreted the move as a pressure play, with the Russians using the United Nations as a forum.

The Soviets made their proposal at the conference's opening session Wednesday in a message from Premier Alexei Kosygin. His note, read by the leader of the Soviet delegation, A.A. Blagonravov, wished the conference success and said: "In order to better satisfy the needs of the developed and developing countries, the Soviet Union and other Socialist countries are proposing the creation of an international communications system through artificial satellites based on democratic principles with total equality for all its participants."

The Intersputnik proposal was delivered to U.N. headquarters in New York Tuesday, but the news had not yet reached Vienna, where the scientists most concerned were gathered.

The draft proposal submitted to the United Nations is very similar to that of Intelsat, which has 62 member nations representing 95 per cent of the communications traffic in the world. The major exception is that each Intersputnik nation would have one vote, giving all an equal voice.

Intelsat nations vote according to their investment, with the United States having a 51 per cent interest through its Communications Satellite Corp., or Comsat.

The Soviet Union has refused to join Intelsat mainly because it would have only a small voice in the American-dominated organization.

One Intelsat official who believes Kosygin's proposal is a pressure play noted that this U.N. space conference was delayed a year because the Russians said they were not ready in 1967. He said the Soviet communications satellite system is far more advanced today than it was a year ago, but he added he didn't know whether there was any connection with the delay in holding the meeting.

Dr. Joseph Charyk, Comsat president and a member of the U.S. delegation, said an international conference has been scheduled next March in Washington to discuss proposed changes in Intelsat. One of these is equal voting rights, which he said Comsat favors.

Other delegates said the Russians may be serious about establishing a separate system. But they saw it primarily as a means of strengthening Soviet influence in Eastern Europe and perhaps extending it into the underdeveloped nations of Africa and Asia.

Blagonravov hinted at the latter, saying: "With the aid of both radio and television transmission via communications satellites, it becomes possible to influence the culture of developing countries by advanced countries."

Next to the Russian propaganda effort here, the U.S. effort is slight.

Against the wishes of U.N. officials the Soviets placed a huge exhibit of spacecraft in a public hall near the conference. Every day cosmonaut Alexei Leonov,

Pryor Thinks Johnson May Run Again

EL DORADO, Ark. (AP) — Rep. David Pryor, D-Ark., said Wednesday that he has not ruled out the "far-fetched idea" that President Johnson might actively seek the presidential nomination at the Democratic National Convention Aug. 26 in Chicago.

Pryor said anything might happen if Vice President Humphrey hasn't won the presidential nomination by the end of the second ballot at the convention.

Pryor said, however, there might develop a rebellion should the President seek the nomination and there would be a likely shift in the convention in favor of Sen. Eugene McCarthy of Minnesota, one of three active candidates for the nomination.

Pryor said he thought it would be difficult for Johnson to be selected.

He said he doubted that Humphrey had enough delegate strength to win the nomination on the first ballot. He said he thought there were enough McCarthy and favorite-son votes to force a second ballot. He declined to speculate the prospects of Sen. George McGovern of South Dakota getting the nomination.

Pryor predicted "an extremely close race" between Richard M. Nixon, the Republican presidential nominee, and the Democratic nominee. He said he thought it was "very possible" the race would be as close as the Nixon-John F. Kennedy race in 1960.

Pryor reiterated that he was the first man to walk in space, escorts visitors through the exhibit and signs autographs. The United States has only a small exhibit, in compliance with a U.N. directive.

Pilot Almost Averted Crash of Copter

COMPTON, Calif. (AP) — Twenty-one persons — many of them looking forward to a Disneyland visit — were killed Wednesday in a helicopter crash similar to one that took 23 lives in this area last May.

Among the passengers were a recently retired grandfather, his wife, daughter and 8-year-old granddaughter, the 14-year-old grandson of the airline's president and three Denver businessmen.

The Los Angeles Airway helicopter broke apart and crashed in flames in an empty section of playground on a flight from Los Angeles International Airport to Disneyland.

It was the second worst commercial helicopter disaster in the United States. The worst, the crash of another twin-turbine Sikorsky S61L copter owned by the Los Angeles firm, occurred at nearby Paramount in May, killing 23.

The company suspended all flights. Witnesses told Federal Aviation Administration investigators they saw a tail rotor fly off, as preceded the May tragedy.

FAA experts began gathering the strewn wreckage to see if a reason for the crash could be determined. Cause of the May 22 disaster still remains a mystery.

Aboard the craft that crashed Wednesday were a crew of three men and 18 passengers.

The dead included Christopher Belinn, 14, grandson of Clarence Belinn, president of the helicopter line; John P. Meehan, 65, his wife, Helen, 63, and their granddaughter Anne, 8, of San Rafael, Calif., and businessmen Kenneth J. Atwell, Was Eekdrenkamp, 39, and L. E. Baker, 44, off of Denver. Meehan retired two weeks ago as a San Francisco police captain.

The crew was identified as Capt. Kenneth L. Waggoner, 33, of Costa Mesa, Calif., the pilot; Frederick Fracker of Redondo Beach, Calif., co-pilot; and James A. Black, Wilmington, Calif., flight attendant.

Witnesses said they heard a "thump, thump, thump" as the helicopter fell earthward. Others described a loud "popping noise" followed by a rapid plunge and an explosion on impact.

The helicopter took off at 10:25 a.m. and was due at the Disneyland heliport at 10:41 a.m. It slammed to earth 12 minutes after takeoff while 30 children played about 200 feet away. No one on the ground was injured.

In the May tragedy, the copter went down 11 minutes after takeoff in a Paramount dairy farm 2 1/2 miles east of Wednesday's crash. It was en route from Disneyland to Los Angeles.

Kenneth Hahn, a Los Angeles County supervisor, demanded that the FBI be called in. Similarities between Wednesday's crash and the May disaster, he said, suggested "this could be a man-made accident as well as or instead of mechanical failure."

Just before the helicopter hit the ground, said Carl Shaw, 14, of Compton, Calif., he heard the pilot scream "hell-l...hell-l!" There was no other human sound from the craft, he said. Steven Fuss of Hollywood, who was working nearby, said he saw the tail rotor fall off "as if it were sheared from the shaft."

"It then went straight out," said Fuss. "Then the copter rolled back end over and toward the tail, made two loops, thirty seconds later it hit the ground."

Witnesses fought the spreading flames with small extinguishers as the fire streaked along the full length of the fuselage.

Jonathan Dollar, 48, said the pilot tried to the end to keep the copter airborne. "God bless that man," he said.

plained to police that small children were not only taking lollipops but "licking some of them and putting them back."

Romanian Red Gets Welcome From Czechs

By PETER REHAK
Associated Press Writer
PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia (AP) — Prague gave an enthusiastic welcome today to Romanian Communist party chief Nicolae Ceausescu, the third man on the Soviet bloc's new Belgrade-Prague-Bucharest axis. Ceausescu came to renew the treaty of friendship and mutual assistance between Romania and Czechoslovakia, a formality which took on special meaning because he has sided with the new liberal leaders of the Czechoslovak Communist party in their resistance to Moscow's pressure to reverse their course. Ceausescu, who is also Romania's president, emphasized his support of Czechoslovak party chief Alexander Dubcek and his colleagues by bringing with him the most important members of his regime: Premier Ion Gheorghe Maurer; Deputy Premier Emil Bodnarus; Deputy President Gheorghe Apostol; Virgil Trofin, Trade Union Council chairman; Gheorghe Stoica, a secretary of the party central committee, and Foreign Minister Corneliu Manescu. The Romanian leader was Czechoslovakia's third major visitor within a week. First came Yugoslav President Tito, the other Communist chief executive who spoke out for the Czechoslovaks' right to decide their own course and the pioneer rebel against Kremlin domination. He was followed by Walter Ulbricht, East Germany's Stalinist party chief and one of the most militant opponents of the new leaders in Prague. Ceausescu had another warning Wednesday for the Kremlin and its orthodox Communist allies, still carrying on military maneuvers in East Germany and elsewhere along their borders with Czechoslovakia. One-Sided Election Except for Washington's unanimous victories, the nation's most one-sided presidential election was in 1820 when James Monroe won by an electoral vote of 231 to 1.

Clark Irked, Challenges Mr. Nixon

By MALCOLM BARR
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark has responded to Richard M. Nixon's threat to fire him if elected president by challenging Nixon to say what he means by the phrase "law and order." In his speech accepting the Republican nomination last week, Nixon said "if we are going to restore order and respect for law in this country, there is one place to begin. We are going to have to have a new attorney general." "The question is," Clark responded in a news conference Wednesday, "what do we do to bring about order under the law?" "I think for the people to just repeat the phrase 'law and order' is not to educate anyone on the issues or on what needs to be done," Clark added. He said it was important for Nixon to make his stance known on these issues, rather than saying "whom he is against." Within hours after Clark's comments, the Nixon camp fired back from its campaign strategy base in California. Robert Ellsworth, Nixon's national political director, said Clark's "record of performance in office marks him down as a reluctant warrior in the battle against crime." Clark, meeting with newsmen in his oak-paneled, red-carpeted outer office, answered a wide variety of questions ranging from the nomination of Abe Fortas as chief justice of the United States—he thinks it should be increased. But Clark dwelt on the acceptance speech by Nixon, publicly answering it for the first time. Nixon, Clark said, attacked "personalities rather than principles." The attorney general set forth some of his own principles and wondered aloud where Nixon stood on them.

He checked off his support of gun control legislation, including registration and licensing, stressed the need for a "professionalization" within police forces; voiced concern for mental health and alcoholism problems; remarked on the need for increased attention to juvenile delinquency; and urged a major boost in spending in the areas of prisons, probation and parole. But should violence break out, he said, law enforcement agencies, including the Secret Service, would be ready for it.

Warren Told Not to Merge Lower Grades

WARREN, Ark. (AP)—Circuit Judge G. B. Colvin Jr. of Dermott prevented the Warren School District Wednesday from carrying out a new desegregation plan, but told the Hermitage schools to proceed with their plan to speed up integration. Colvin issued a temporary injunction prohibiting the Warren School Board from implementing its plan to totally integrate the first six grades in the school term beginning later this month and the other six grades in the 1969-70 school year. He set another hearing in the case Sept. 4, however. Colvin acted in the absence of vacationing Chancellor Jim Merritt of McGehee, who will return for the September hearing. Warren's plan was adopted July 31 under pressure from the Department of Health, Education and Welfare. Colvin, however, upheld the contention of the white plaintiffs that there was too little time to implement the plan. Both Warren and Hermitage have been operating under freedom-of-choice plans. Hermitage's plan was adopted earlier than that of Warren and was approved by the HEW July 3. Under it, the district will totally desegregate the upper six grades this year and the other six grades in 1969-70. Colvin said the Hermitage School Board had ample time to implement its plan.

nominating speeches be limited to ten minutes. Humphrey did not mention direct public participation in the convention or any meetings on its periphery. O'Brien was asked in an interview whether there were any plans for any kind of forum for college students and other young people planning to visit Chicago to express their views on candidates and issues. O'Brien said: "Well, I think this—there's a desire on the part of these responsible young people to have an opportunity to meet among themselves and discuss the issues and the candidates, to present views to the convention." O'Brien said he thought this "should be encouraged." The Coalition for an Open Convention, led by supporters of McCarthy, has sought since July 13 to obtain the Soldier Field, with a 100,000-plus seating capacity, for a rally on convention eve. After the Chicago Park District declined to act on the request the group filed suit through the Illinois division of the American Civil Liberties Union. There have been reports Democrats would use the huge stadium to celebrate President Johnson's birthday Aug. 27. There have been other reports the field would be used as a parking lot for convention officials or as a detention area for persons arrested during any demonstrations. There is a mistaken belief that a great bridge player can know where all the cards are. The theory is that if he doesn't, then he isn't an expert.

Quite often he will locate all the cards after a couple of plays, but at trick two he seldom knows more than a beginner would.

Here is another hand from the match between the Dallas Orange team and the California All-Stars to show this.

When the hand was shown on Bridge-O-Rama the audience noted that Dallas had bid four spades and gone down.

The bidding was that shown in the box. South's opening was a weak two bid, showing

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

As a measure of the power of English words to suggest multiple meanings depending upon the context in which they are used, The World Almanac notes that the Oxford Dictionary has 14,070 different definitions for the 500 most-used words, an average of 28 meanings a word. For example, "bar" can take on more than two dozen meanings: a bar for drinking, exercising, prying; a bar of soap, candy, justice, music, etc.

a good six-card suit and a hand just too weak for a normal opening. Two no-trump was a forcing response and the three-heart bid showed something in that suit, whereupon North jumped to the spade game.

The commentators predicted that the bidding would be duplicated and the audience watched as the commentators' predictions materialized.

Dummy's king of diamonds accounted for the first trick and the 10 of spades was led. East played low. He could do nothing else and the audience watched while declarer studied his play. The audience could see that if South played the ace of trumps and another one and then guessed where the ace of clubs was, that he would make his contract.

The commentators predicted that he would take the finesse. The explanation was that in this company East would not have covered the 10 with the king so that South could not know where the king was. Then, the percentage play had to be the finesse and experts are all percentage players. The 10 was allowed to ride. West took his king; led a second diamond for his partner to ruff and two aces left South down one for this, another tie board.

THE DOCTOR SAYS

Ganglions, Not Serious, Are Best Let Alone

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

Ganglion, a rather common lesion, is a hernia or rupture of the enveloping capsule of one of the joints between the small bones of the wrist. It is sometimes called a synovial cyst. It is seen more often in women than in men but the cause is not known. It is not serious and, in most persons, produces no symptoms. A few, however, may complain of weakness in the wrist and of mild pain on making a tight fist.

A ganglion sometimes disappears spontaneously or when it accidentally receives a hard blow. Many ganglions have been treated at home by administering a sharp blow with the family Bible, but this treatment is not recommended because of the danger of a more serious injury. Following this treatment the ganglion usually returns. If it causes no trouble and is not too noticeable, it is best to leave it alone.

Complete surgical removal is advised by some authorities but this involves a prolonged recovery period. Most doctors prefer a simpler method of treatment, such as withdrawal of the fluid through a syringe, then injecting hydrocortisone into the cyst.

Another method that has been highly successful is drawing a suture through the cyst, tying it loosely in place and gently pressing the fluid out. A sterile dressing is then applied and every day the dressing is removed so that the suture can be drawn back and forth. After eight or nine days, the cyst is empty and the suture has caused a foreign body reaction which prevents a recurrence.

Q—I do a lot of housecleaning with ammonia. Are the fumes harmful to the lungs?

A—Although a heavy exposure to ammonia fumes following an industrial accident may cause damage to the lungs, liver and kidneys, the household use of ammonia would irritate only the nose, throat and eyes. This can be minimized by working with the windows open or by using an electric fan in the room.

Q—Can a 55-year-old woman catch chicken pox? Several days after exposure to this disease, I broke out with a large number of very itchy pimples all over my body.

A—Anyone who has never had chicken pox can get it. It is called a childhood disease only because that is when most people have it. Your description would surely fit this diagnosis.

That the American public is becoming resentful of federal employees is no secret. The reason is twofold: (1) The number of bureaucrats has grown so great the individual citizen feels he is overwhelmed; and (2) There is a suspicion that federal workers constitute a privileged class - in a republic where Government workers are supposed to be public servants and private taxpayers presumed to be the privileged ones.

Resentment is piled upon resentment when you reflect on the bureaucratic stupidity revealed in the following news item:

The Wall Street Journal reports that Government passport authorities say every time President Johnson issues a new appeal to private citizens to refrain from traveling abroad, in order to save the drain on the dollar, immediately the passport offices are overwhelmed by travel requests from federal officials.

In the face of such impudence it's small wonder that Americans defy the President and increase foreign travel this year 11 percent over 1967. If LBJ can't control the people under his direct command then he has no business counseling the rest of us on anything.

The August number of Quill, magazine of Sigma Delta Chi, national journalist fraternity, pays tribute to the New York Times for remembering a forgotten man even though the remembrance is 60 years late.

In 1908 George Schuster won a New York - to - Paris auto race sponsored by the Times for which the Automobile Club of America had promised a winner's purse of $1,000. But the club folded and the winner went unpaid.

Now Schuster, of Buffalo, N.Y., is 95 and nearly blind. On the occasion of a re-enactment of the old race this year, with pre-1915 automobiles, the New York Times presented Schuster with his $1,000 - 60 years late.

The story of the original race was told by Tom Mahoney and Schuster in their book, "The Longest Auto Race," and was the theme in a general way, for a movie made in 1964.

But it was the New York Times that saw financial justice done for racing's fine old man.

More G&F Members Hit by Rockefeller

LITTLE ROCK (AP) - The Arkansas Democrat reported today that Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller has charged two more members of the state Game and Fish Commission with improper conduct in office.

Rockefeller's office, contacted about the article, confirmed that summonses were served on commission chairman Ernest Hogue of Weiner and Newt Halley of Rogers.

Already involved in an ouster hearing is Raymond Farris of Blasco, who faces nine charges filed by the governor.

The governor's office did not immediately reveal the charges against Hogue and Halley.

"The Democrats said the summonses were served on the men two days ago, with Halley receiving his just before catching an airplane for a 10-day vacation in Hawaii.

Hogue was reluctant to talk about the matter, at first referring all questions to his attorney, Sam Robinson of Little Rock.

However, he later said the only thing he knew he was being charged with was a trip to Oklahoma in 1965 in the commission airplane. Hogue said the trip had enabled the Arkansas commission to obtain some needed information relative to handling the open deer season from the Oklahoma commission.

Planes Hit Enemy in New Fury

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) - U.S. fighter-bombers attacked North Vietnam's southern panhandle with renewed fury Wednesday after a day in which tropical storm Rose prevented American aircraft carriers from launching a single mission.

With the three 7th Fleet carriers in the Tonkin Gulf back in action, American pilots flew 105 missions against supply lines in North Vietnam, more than triple the 31 missions flown Tuesday by land-based planes. That had been the lowest number in more than two years.

America's biggest bombers, the Air Force B52s, roared over North Vietnam today for the second time this week to attack troop concentrations, artillery and aircraft sites. Two flights of the eight-jet Stratofortresses, with at least three bombers in each wave, struck from just above the demilitarized zone to 5½ miles inside North Vietnam.

The B52s have concentrated recently on trying to blunt the expected third Viet Cong offensive against Saigon and other South Vietnamese cities.

In maneuvering connected with the peace talks in Paris, qualified sources said today the French government has firmly declined South Vietnamese feelers for a resumption of full diplomatic relations between the two nations.

Vietnamese sources said government would like to return its Paris consulate back to embassy level so as to be better prepared if the talks are enlarged to include a South Vietnamese delegation. The sources said the French government reacted to unofficial approaches by declaring that as host to the peace talks it must avoid disturbing the diplomatic status quo in any way that might affect the negotiations.

South Vietnam's military junta reduced diplomatic relations with France in June 1965, saying the French government showed a pro-Communist bias in the Vietnam war. President Charles de Gaulle has consistently denounced American involvement in Vietnam, a French colony until 1953, and called for neutralization of South Vietnam.

For the second day in a row, no significant ground actions were reported in the war. But American reconnaissance pilots spotted a complex of deserted Viet Cong factories Wednesday, including munitions plants, in the Mekong Delta 73 miles west-southwest of Saigon. U.S. helicopters landed South Vietnamese ground troops who searched the area.

Would Change Dates to State Elections

FORT SMITH, Ark. (AP) - State Sen. Milt Earnhart said Wednesday he would ask the 1969 General Assembly to change Arkansas' primary election dates to August and September.

Earnhart said he would introduce a bill calling for a three-day filing period July 8-10 with the first primary in the last week of August and the runoff the third week of September.

He sponsored a bill in the 1967 legislature to change the primaries to September and October, but the bill died.

"As a result, we witnessed this summer's long, grueling, comfortably hot primaries," Earnhart said.

He said he understood that a number of states now hold their primaries in the fall because they tie in with the November general election.

ROGERS, Ark. (AP) - Hardy Croxtan of Rogers, a Democratic candidate for Congress from the 3rd District, said Wednesday he would support proposals to lower the voting age to 18.

Vroxtan said young persons were better educated, "generally responsible and moderate in their outlook and equal in general intelligence to 30-year-old citizens back in the days when the present age level for voters was fixed."

Croxtan rejected argument that lowering the voting age would open the polls to "extremists." He said giving young people the ballot would stimulate them to study governmental problems with greater diligence.

Nixon Plans Unity Talks on Road Trip

By WALTER R. MEARS
Associated Press Writer
SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) - Richard M. Nixon is expanding his trip home from San Diego into the first political road show of his campaign as Republican presidential nominee. He leaves Sunday.

Nixon plans a two-day journey to New York with a series of public appearances along the route. In addition, he has scheduled party-harmony visits with Govs. George Romney of Michigan, in Lansing, and Raymond P. Shafer of Pennsylvania, in Harrisburg.

The exact schedule has not been disclosed. But Herbert G. Klein, Nixon's chief spokesman, said the former vice president will appear in Springfield, Ill., on Monday morning.

There will be public appearances in Lansing and Harrisburg, too, Klein said, and probably at one other point on the transcontinental trip.

In San Diego today, Nixon confers with his crime advisory committee, headed by Dist. Atty. Evelle Younger of Los Angeles County. Los Angeles Police Chief Thomas Reddin, who has faced civil disturbances in the Watts district in recent days, is to be among those on hand.

Crime and big city violence are viewed by Nixon strategists as a chief issue in the campaign.

Two key congressional Republicans, Sen. George Murphy and Rep. Bob Wilson, talk political plans today with Nixon lieutenants, and confer with the nominee himself Friday.

Humphrey Offers Open Convention

By HARRY KELLY
Associated Press Writer
NEW YORK (AP) - New storm clouds gathered Thursday over the prospect for Democratic unity this fall despite Hubert H. Humphrey's holding out an "open convention" as an olive branch to party rebels and backers of Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy.

Although the vice president's chief strategist, Lawrence O'Brien contended that a "truly open convention" was the surest way to forge party unity, a McCarthy backer charged that few of the public would be permitted into the Chicago convention.

Allard Lowenstein, one of the original supporters of McCarthy, told a news conference that only 1,000 visitor's passes would be permitted for the convention, that state delegations would be separated by physical barriers and that major telephone facilities on the convention floor would be controlled from the rostrums by the convention chairman.

In addition the Coalition for an Open Convention sued Chicago officials in Chicago District Court, charging that the failure to permit a rally on the eve of the convention, Aug. 25, was having "a chilling effect" on the right of free speech and assembly.

As these developments were occurring Humphrey, the front-runner in the Democratic presidential contest, released a statement entitled "A Meaningful Convention and an Open Convention," coupled with a letter to National party Chairman John Bailey urging a streamlining to reduce "the frills and the housekeeping" of the convention.

"In this crucial year," Humphrey said in the letter, "we have the opportunity to present to the American people a convention that is open, democratic and meaningful."

Among other matters, Humphrey urged that floor demonstrations be abolished; that the full text of the party platform be made public at least 24 hours before it is debated and that

Court Refuses to Lift Charge of Vagrancy

LITTLE ROCK (AP) - Arkansas Supreme Court Associate Justices George Rose Smith, Conley Byrd and Lyle Brown refused Wednesday to free four persons who are being held at the Pulaski County Penal Farm on vagrancy charges.

Ted Lamb, attorney for the four persons, said he will take the case to federal court today as a challenge to the constitutionality of the state's vagrancy law.

The four persons, all from North Carolina, were arrested at the Union Rescue Mission July 29 after their car broke down. They were convicted of vagrancy and are serving a 30-day sentence.

Lamb said the vagrancy statute was unconstitutional because it did not spell out what "visible means of support" meant or what a "regular home" meant.

If the four persons are not working, "how are they getting their eats?" Byrd asked. He said if the four were released they might go to California and avoid serving the rest of their sentence if their conviction were upheld.

ALC Discusses Negligence

LITTLE ROCK (AP) - The Arkansas Legislative Council was scheduled today to take up the problem of a city being responsible for the negligence of its employees.

The state Supreme Court held in June that a city could be held liable for negligence. This drew criticism from the Arkansas Municipal League which said the decision could cost cities $1.5 million annually in insurance premiums.

Law Enforcement Sure to Be Big Issue in Presidential Drive

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey said today no one wants law and order more than the nation's law-abiding Negroes and poor—but he said better law enforcement should mean liberation, not repression.

Negroes and poor people want better enforcement against major crime including murder, rape and robbery because they are its most frequent victims, the Democratic presidential contender said.

His prepared remarks were for a Newark, N.J., luncheon this afternoon.

"For all law-abiding Negroes and poor, law enforcement should not mean repression, but liberation," he said, "not a further cause for resentment, but a new freedom from fear and the constant threat of violence."

Humphrey said law and order will be a major campaign issue this year and said some, but he

Peace Talks Appear to Be Bogged

WASHINGTON (AP) - Secretary of Defense Clark M. Clifford said today the United States will not cut back the bombing of North Vietnam until the administration can work out some arrangement with the North Vietnamese which would protect American servicemen near enemy territory.

Clifford said the bombing restriction authorized by President Johnson March 31 allowed for strikes against the enemy above the demilitarized zone so U.S. and allied forces in that area would not be jeopardized.

"I think that reason still holds," the defense chief told a news conference.

Clifford said he felt that without some agreement with the North Vietnamese, the current bombing limitation is a "reasonable and logical approach."

At the same time, Clifford said the United States still awaits a "clear signal" from Hanoi that the recent lull in fighting in South Vietnam is North Vietnam's response to President Johnson's bombing outlook.

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
AP Special Correspondent
PARIS (AP) - U.S. efforts to find out in some official way whether the lull in Communist attacks in South Vietnam is intended by North Vietnam as a peace gesture apparently have bogged down.

American officials at the Paris peace talks say that as far as they are concerned the question is still open. But they now put major emphasis on their contention that North Vietnam is preparing for an offensive by pouring troops and military supplies into the South at a high rate.

"The disposition of the North Vietnamese forces indicates that major military attacks are in preparation," U.S. spokesmen said.

Board Hedges on Action on Access Plan

Hope's Planning and Zoning Commission last night recommended that the City Board of Directors accept the Arkansas Highway Department proposal to reroute Highway 29 south along a corridor in the vicinity of Edgewood Street to effect a junction with Interstate 30.

The Commission's action was taken to advance a study of the route suggested. The resolution also recommended that the site of the proposed railway overpass be located as close as possible to the central business district and if at all possible this structure be built in such a manner that East Second Street will not be blocked.

The Directors took no action except to instruct City Manager Garland Medders to set up a meeting as soon as possible between the group and State Highway Commissioner John Harsh of Magnolia, the purpose being to study alternate routes.

Those attending a previous meeting had been assured that the Edgewood area route is merely a symbol for the corridor under consideration and might not be the exact location as plans are perfected. They were also assured that full public hearings will be held before any final plan is reached.

Last night Planning and Zoning Commission recommendation was merely to advance the proposed project so that further studies could be made. The Board didn't commit itself even this far, just called for Mr. Medders to set up a meeting with Mr. Harsh.

As at previous meetings a large group of property owners were on hand, probably all of them are emphatically against the proposed Edgewood route and any plan that would close Second Street.

A letter from the Chamber of Commerce pledged support to any workable plan that is adopted by the City Directors.

In other action last night the group accepted a bid of $112,435.16 from Sutton Construction Co. of Crossett for laying water and storm sewer lines on Sixth Street.

Mrs. Travis Ward was named to the Planning and Zoning Commission, replacing Huland White who resigned.

An ordinance was passed rezoning an area in the Holcomb addition to allow the Church of Christ to build a new church. The area is just off the Highway 67-4 junction on the Rocky Mound Road.

A second ordinance officially classified an area on West Avenue B or Old Highway 67 west as I-1 or an industrial area. This is the section that includes the industrial site.

Another ordinance vacated Dadds Avenue, thus keeping it closed. The alleyway or street had never been opened fully.

Reds Claim Appeal From Pueblo Crew

TOKYO (AP) - North Korea said today the 82 crewmen of the U.S. intelligence ship Pueblo have issued a second joint appeal for help to obtain their release.

The North Korean Central News Agency said the ship's captain, Cmdr. Lloyd M. Bucher of Lincoln, Neb., issued the appeal Tuesday at a news conference attended by 24 other crewmen.

The Pueblo's crew has been in captivity since Jan. 23, when the North Koreans seized the ship off Wonsan, a North Korean port. North Korea claimed the Pueblo violated its territorial waters and said the crew would be released after the United States apologizes and promises to guard against such incidents.

The United States denies that the ship trespassed in North Korean waters.

Mrs. Humphrey

By HELEN HENNESSY
NEA Women's Editor

NEW YORK—(NEA)—When she walked with me to the door of the Humphreys' Waldorf Towers suite, Muriel Humphrey's eyes twinkled as she said, "Thank you for not asking me about the sandwiches."

There's rarely a news story written about the Humphreys that doesn't include the bit about how Muriel did typing

Muriel Humphrey

and made stacks of sandwiches for her husband to sell to fellow students to supplement the family income while he completed his graduate studies.

And if the charming second lady of the land can never again look a tuna on white in the eye, who can blame her?

A Washington reporter described the wife of the vice president this way: "Muriel Humphrey doesn't think she can do anything better than you, but she does believe she can do practically anything."

The many demands on her as wife of a big city mayor, wife of a U.S. senator and now the wife of the vice president have given her this confidence.

"We learned early that we could survive under the poorest of circumstances, no matter what setbacks we had," she said.

She proved the truth of that statement during Humphrey's first political campaign in 1943, when the practically unknown Hubert finished second in an eight-man race for mayor of Minneapolis.

"When that campaign was over, we had just $7 left in the bank," she recalled. "Then Hubert found out that $1,700 in campaign bills, which we thought had been paid by his supporters, had not been paid at all and were being charged to him."

They struggled to get out of debt. Mrs. Humphrey cared for her growing family while mowing the lawn and tending to duties as manager of a small apartment building. Her energetic husband was the building's maintenance man as well as part-time radio announcer and, whenever possible, a paid political lecturer. They paid off all debts in a little over a year.

Muriel Humphrey used to sew almost all her own clothes. She has been known to start cutting out a long dress one day and to wear it to a formal dinner the following evening. Petite, attractive Muriel wears clothes with a flair. She is knowledgeable in fashion and it was a delight to talk to her about it.

"I love fabric," she said, "and American fabrics get better all the time. We have created a good market for fabric, design and excellent workmanship."

"In Europe, ready-to-wear clothes often have drama, but when you look underneath, the seams are bad. When you try on the dress, it fits badly. This doesn't happen here. And I look underneath—as all sewers do."

She can take short skirts to a certain point but, too often, she believes, they go beyond where they look attractive.

"Women's legs, even teenagers," she said, "just aren't that beautiful. And there seems no sense in deliberately making yourself look silly."

"Designers, I think, are making fun of us now. What they're doing is fine for the fashion magazines, but women don't look that way. I'd rather look at the ads than at the editorial art in the fashion publications. At least from them you can tell whether a dress might be right for you."

Among her favorite American designers are Edith Head, Adele Simpson and Mollie Parnis.

Mrs. Humphrey thinks the ruffled, feminine look is pretty but that one has to be petite to wear it well. The waistline's return intrigues her. "I like dressing comfortably," she said. "But to cinch in a straight dress with a belt is kind of fun, too."

She designs some of her own clothes. "I have one dress I made that I call my $600 dress because I put so much hand work into it. And I'll probably have it forever. Like everyone who sews, I can't bring myself to give away clothes I made myself."

A wide breadth of interests is revealed by Muriel Humphrey's activities. She maintains a lively interest in the Poverty Program and frequently visits Job Corps camps and Head Start programs. And in their home in Waverly, Minn., she water skis and ice skates with enviable ease.

One of her treasured projects is a book she is writing on caring for mentally retarded children—a project she has had to put aside for a time because of her arduous schedule.

"I became interested in mental retardation the way most people do," Mrs. Humphrey said. "Inadvertently, I had no idea what it really meant until it happened in our own family."

"Vicky, our first grandchild, was born with the condition doctors call Down's Syndrome—she was what most people call a mongoloid. At first we were stunned. Like any family hearing such news, we didn't know what we should do. And everyone is afraid to advise you."

Refusing the advice of many to put the child into an institution, the Humphreys' daughter, Nancy, and her husband, Bruce, kept Vicky at home.

"We found out that Vicky would be capable of learning a surprising number of things," Muriel Humphrey said. "We found out, too, that she could be happy. At any rate, we realized she'd never be as unhappy about her condition as we were."

Vicky is one of about 2.5 million children in this country with impaired or incomplete mental development.

"This is a subject," Mrs. Humphrey added, "that few people would discuss not too long ago. Now we have a wonderful exchange of letters with people who have retarded children or know someone who has. I would like, in book form, to share these with others who need this kind of help. From your own experience you can let them know what to expect, how far to go and when to stop pushing."

Mrs. Humphrey believes that the so-called "unemployable" need this same kind of watchful assistance in order to become employable. "Each time we have served somebody like this we have added to our worth," she said.

"When you live with a retarded child," Mrs. Humphrey explained, "it is even more distressing to watch so many young people destroy their own minds, to purposely dull their intelligence."

"Dope addicts and hippies turn away from life. Retarded children don't have a choice yet these people destroy themselves."

March 17 is celebrated as St. Patrick's Day because it is that saint's feast day and the day on which he died.

FOOD FOR AMERICANS

Yams and Pecans—A Delicious Dish

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Nutrition Editor

Here are two different Southern-style vegetable dishes for your warm weather meals. One uses a 5-ounce package of instant mashed yams, the other, fresh corn cut from the cob.

PLANTATION MASHED YAMS

1/2 cup coarsely chopped pecans
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
1/2 teaspoon sugar
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon

1 package (5 ounces) instant mashed Louisiana yams
1/4 teaspoon EACH: salt and grated orange peel

Toast pecans in butter over low heat. Mix sugar and cinnamon; toss with pecans. Prepare yams according to package directions; add salt and orange peel (omit butter). Fold one-half the sugared pecans into mashed yams. Sprinkle remaining on top. Four servings.

FRESH CORN CREOLE

1/2 cup diced green pepper
1/2 cup diced onion
1/2 cup butter or margarine
3 cups fresh corn cut off the cob
1 1/2 cups diced fresh tomatoes

1 1/2 teaspoons sugar
1 1/2 teaspoons salt
1/2 teaspoon ground black pepper
1 tablespoon butter or margarine

Saute green pepper and onion in the 1/2-cup butter. Add corn, tomatoes, sugar, salt and black pepper. Cover and cook 10 minutes or until corn is tender. Stir in the 1 tablespoon butter. Serve hot. Six portions.

Started Her Weather Charts Years Ago

By TOM STEWART
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Woodrow Wilson was midway through his first term when Tirezah Miley, then 12, began reporting temperature and rainfall data for her small Virginia town to the Weather Bureau every day. She's still at it.

The Weather Bureau announced today Tirezah—now Tirezah Spiggle—and four other volunteer observers have been selected to receive the 1968 Thomas Jefferson Awards for unusual and outstanding accomplishments in the field of meteorological observations.

The award is named for Jefferson because he was a weather buff, too, and kept a log on the weather with almost no gaps from 1776 to 1816.

Jefferson Award winners besides Mrs. Spiggle are Thomas Fleming of Ashwood, Tenn.; Milford L. Noon of Nogales, Ariz.; Roger C. Rice of Los Banos, Calif.; and Sarah M. Taylor of Merrill, Miss.

Three in that group have exceeded Jefferson's mark of 40 years of observations. Mrs. Spiggle will complete 53 years in October. Mrs. Taylor started 50 years ago and Noon, now 58, started when he was 15.

The Jefferson Award winners are the superstars of the 12,000-member volunteer weather observer network, which feeds in locally gathered data the Weather Bureau still needs despite its computers and satellites. Twenty-four other observers will receive the John Campanius Holm Award for "continuing excellence" in reporting.

It's a no-pay job that often means going out in wretched weather to take readings, but observers tend to treat it as a solemn obligation and an honor to be handed on to the next generation.

Fleming, for instance, took over in 1939 from his mother, who had inherited the job from her mother—who started it all 112 years ago.

It's the same with Mrs. Spiggle, a cheerful, talkative housewife who until a few years ago was a cashier at the dime store in Woodstock.

"This is a family affair," she said in an interview Wednesday. "It started with my Uncle Herbert in 1889, and then it was my grandfather, and then Aunt Adylongale, and then my father. And, since 1915, me."

It would be nice if she could personally carry the records up to 1989, rounding out a century, Mrs. Spiggle said. But if things don't work out that way—she's 65 now—another member of the clan, Aunt Adylongale's son Marion, is waiting.

Uruguayans Pay Homage to Student

By ISAAC A. LEVI
Associated Press Writer

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay (AP) — Thousands of Uruguayans paid homage today to a student slain in antigovernment riots, underlining growing opposition to President Jorge Pacheco Areco.

The 400,000-member National Convention of Labor called a nationwide 24-hour strike to honor Liber Arce, 29-year-old national university student who died Wednesday of bullet wounds suffered during a riot Monday. The stoppage was called in defiance of a presidential ban on strikes.

The administration, shaken by the mounting opposition, announced that it would permit a funeral demonstration today for Arce. The government closed high schools until further notice, and university students cut classes in preparation for the campus funeral for Arce, who they claimed was a victim of police bullets.

At least 10,000 mourners lined up outside the university's main hall Wednesday night, as Arce's body was brought there to lie in state. Thousands more converged on the building during the night. Floral wreaths filled the hall.

Police did not interfere although they maintained a guard at a discreet distance.

Workers walked or bicycled to the campus in groups of 200 to 300, carrying Uruguayan flags and wreaths. About 1,000 bank clerks marched down the 18th of

Mrs. Aline Grisham is the new office secretary at the Hope-Hempstead County Chamber of Commerce office. She replaces Mrs. Harry Cagle who had served in this capacity for the past few years. Mrs. Grisham is well known in Hope and the surrounding area, having previously been employed at the Bill Ellis Insurance Agency in Hope and L. L. Mitchell, a Prescott attorney for a number of years.

July Avenue, Montevideo's main street, with flags and flowers.

The Chamber of Deputies observed a minute of silence in tribute to the dead student. All clerks and administrative personnel at the parliament building joined in.

The army reinforced its guard around Government House and other strategic posts in the capital, but there were no disturbances. Student leaders circulated orders to avoid disturbances until today.

Student riots erupted last Friday after police raided the university, seeking clues to the abduction by a pro-Peking group of Ulises Perreira Reverbel, a leading presidential adviser and head of the telephone and power company. Perreira was released unharmed Sunday, but student riots continued Monday and Tuesday, protesting alleged police brutality as well as the government's austerity program to combat inflation and the hard line it has adopted toward labor and student unrest.

Bell Was Hidden

During the British attack on Philadelphia, the Liberty Bell was removed by wagon to Allentown, Pa., where it was housed in the basement of a church. After the British evacuated Philadelphia the following year, the bell was returned to its former place.

Starving Child Seeks Help for Biafra

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
AP Religion Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — "And a little child shall lead them." That phrase from Biblical prophecy—Isaiah 11:6—is the idea behind a trip planned today for a little girl in behalf of the starving children of embattled Biafra, in the eastern sector of Nigeria.

Melanie Nix, 9, is going to see the Archbishop of Canterbury, Dr. Michael Ramsey, in London, and then to Rome, to try to see Pope Paul VI, to urge their help sponsors said.

"She's going as a representative of all children, both the healthy and the dying," said Paul Connert, chairman of the Committee to Keep Biafra Alive. "We hope that she'll be received and listened to."

He added that "too many leaders have been quiet" about the mass starvation of Biafran children "and we hope that the appeal of a child may be given some importance."

"If we've come to the time when a child isn't considered important, then it's a sad thing," he said.

The committee is a nonsectarian organization seeking to gather relief supplies to be channeled through facilities of church and other voluntary agencies.

It is urging observance this Sunday of an "International Day of Sorrow and Hope"—Sorrow for children who have died and hope for those still living. Churches were urged to hold special services and ring their bells on the hours.

"If the bells ring now with new hope, then they won't have to toll later for death," Connert said. A telegram was sent to President Johnson asking him to proclaim the day, and to order flags kept at half staff.

As part of the observance, the committee also appealed to Americans to keep a light burning in all apartments and homes throughout this Sunday night symbolizing the motto: "Don't let the lights go out for Biafran children."

Melanie, of South Amboy, N.J., is scheduled to leave Kennedy airport for London by British Overseas Airline tonight, accompanied by a guardian, after a news conference.

Among her objectives is to enlist the support of the church leaders in observance to the day, and to persuade Pope Paul to visit the United Nations in behalf of the Biafran children as part of his trip to Bogota, Colombia, Aug. 22-24.

"It was her own idea to go to the Pope," Connert said. "She comes from a very religious family and she's very articulate. We just picked her from a lot of little kids we have working around here."

She was among children active in a "Life Line" service near the United Nations about a week ago, in which people brought canned goods and foodstuffs for shipment to Biafra. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. William Nix, of South Amboy.

London's subway system carried 9.5 million passengers in the first year of its existence, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

UNKNOWN TALENTS now, Lucie and Desi Arnaz are likely to be very well-known after their September debut in mother's new show, Here's Lucy.

TV NOTEBOOK

By JOAN CROSBY
NEA Entertainment Editor

HOLLYWOOD—(NEA)—The boy is 15½, very handsome and serious. The girl is 17, pretty and a natural comedienne. They are a pair of nice kids having lunch in their mother's office and mother is just not a good enough actress to keep the maternal glow of pride out of her blue eyes.

Spend some time with them and you hear mother-children conversations such as go on all over the world. The boy sneezed. The mother rose from her chair, walked around the table and felt his forehead.

"Are you getting a cold?" she asked. He said he wasn't. "Are you telling me the truth?" she wondered. "I don't think he is, mom," the girl said. "I'm all right, really," the boy said.

Temporarily the concern was eased, but you knew the next time the boy sneezed, mother would worry again.

And that is the kind of mother Lucille Ball is, a good one, a careful one, a protective one and a very proud one. Her children, Lucie and Desi Arnaz, are joining her when she returns to CBS-TV in September in a new format, Here's Lucy.

The change was necessitated when Lucy sold Desilu Studios and its programs to Gulf and Western Industries. Rather than work for another producer, Lucille Ball Productions created Here's Lucy, retained Gale Gordon and added Lucy's own youngsters to the cast.

Lucie, who acted in high school plays and who appeared in a small role with her mother last season, and Desi, who performs with the Dino, Desi and Billy trio, were basically unknown talents.

"At first we were not sure we were doing the right thing," Lucy said. "They didn't want to discourage me or I them, so we all worried quietly. I didn't want to put any unfounded worries in their minds. I didn't have to worry. I am delighted to say they have both gotten every laugh we wrote into the script, plus about 18 or 20 others. And the audience which watches us do the show has caught their enthusiasm."

Both youngsters are being privately tutored while appearing on their mother's show, because Lucy thinks this is a good chance for them to learn about show business. "They don't need schools for social life or to see what is out there in the great world. I think it's a good idea for all kids to get a chance to try careers while they are young."

Lucie, whose natural sense of comedy and delivery is reminiscent not of her mother, but of Carol Burnett, is pretty certain she wants to remain an actress.

"I would love to win an Academy Award," she said. "An Emmy would be nice, too."

"I want to be a dramatic actor," Desi added. "At 15½, I'm getting laughs, but wait until I'm 20. I'd like a western movie, too, but everybody wants to do a western."

Lucy interrupted, "This is letter-to-Santa-Claus time."

Ask Lucie and Desi if anything surprised them about their new careers and they are pretty much in agreement. "When we just watched the show," Desi said, "we didn't know that much work went into it."

"It's the attention to detail, and the make-up and those time-consuming things I hadn't thought about," Lucie said.

Lucy, a perfectionist, added, "She is learning that, for instance, her bangs must be just right. One week she wouldn't listen and she found out. I want them to see the rushes. It's another way to learn."

In the series, Lucie will play a character named Kim Carter and Desi will play her brother, Craig Carter. Will this cause problems for their mother, trying to remember to call her offspring by different names?

"No. I always have trouble with names anyway. I call Desi Gary and Lucie De De and twice I have called De De my mother. Cleo, which is my sister's name."

Teen Diet Can Prevent Heart Attack at 40

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food Editor

Here is a warning for teenagers.

Intensive scientific research over the past 15 years indicates that too much saturated fat from hamburgers, French fries, hot dogs and whole milk and two eggs for breakfast every day may predispose them to a heart attack at 40 or 50.

So warns Frederick J. Stare, M.D., chairman of Harvard University Department of Nutrition. "There is increasing evidence that our 500,000 annual heart attack victims do not succumb to what they eat in their 50s or 60s. No, the susceptibility started in their earlier years. As adolescents they probably ate the typical American diet heavy in saturated fats and cholesterol," he explains.

Diet, of course, is not the sole answer to warding off heart disease. Smoking too much, too little exercise, overeating and eating too much are also involved. But diet is largely important. The dangerous elements are both saturated fats and cholesterol, Stare repeats.

The saturated fats are primarily milk fat (which includes butter, most cheeses, and ice cream) and meat fat. On the other hand, the polyunsaturated fats which tend to lower the blood cholesterol are mainly liquid vegetable oils, such as safflower, soy bean, corn and cottonseed.

Beef, lamb and pork are high in saturated fats. Egg yolk is the most potent source of cholesterol. These popular foods often contain both saturated fats and cholesterol.

Cholesterol is the joker. The human body itself creates cholesterol, but it creates more cholesterol out of saturated fats. This excess is likely to form deposits in the lining of blood vessels, thus narrowing them. The narrowing of the coronary arteries can ultimately cause a blockage by a clot. When that happens, you have a heart attack.

The gradual accumulation of

Frederick J. Stare, M.D.

fat in the arteries is medically known as atherosclerosis. We now know it can begin to develop very early in life.

Most recent medical research indicates that during the rapid growth period of between 13 and 18 years the tendency to accumulate cholesterol is heightened. This is added evidence that the diet of adolescents can play a vital part in preventing later heart attacks, this Harvard nutritionist points out.

What changes should an adolescent make? Stare suggests cutting down, not out, on beef, lamb and pork, eating only the lean meat, not the fat. Go in for more veal. It has less fat. Enjoy more chicken and turkey. They have less fat and that fat is less saturated. Try fish, but not shellfish, more often. Cut down on eggs. Two or three a week, not two every morning, are enough for safety. Persuade your mother to switch from serving you whole milk to skim or low-fat milk. Ask her to use safflower, corn or cottonseed oil in cooking, spreads and in dressings. Our food technologists can remove some of the saturated fat, and replace it with polyunsaturated fat without changing taste, from cake mixes, milk, ice cream, cream sauce, soups and many other popular foods. Harvard's nutrition department co-operated in a massive research project which resulted in over 90 new foods with less saturated fats, all the way from hot dogs to chocolate sauce. Although only experimental, these foods could sell at popular prices.

A Norwegian cardiologist, Paul Leren, M.D., recently completed a five-year study of diets low in saturated fats and cholesterol. He found that even on a low cholesterol level diet that it took over two years before the diet began to influence heart attack rates. When men were over 60 the diet produced no significant effect. These studies stress the long time needed to achieve any significant result, no matter how good the diet.

"This is just one more bit of evidence that the sooner you start altering your diet—

Charged With Defacing Flag

NORTHFIELD, Vt. (AP)—An unemployed carpenter has been charged with publicly mutilating and defacing a U.S. flag by wearing it as patches on the seat of his pants.

Washington County Atty. Joseph Palmisano brought the charge Tuesday night against Lawrence Wang, 19, of Plainfield, who wears his long hair in a pigtail.

The charges said that by his alleged act Wang "cast contempt" upon the flag by "wearing said pants in public view."

Wang, learning that the county attorney had brought the charge, surrendered at the Northfield home of District Judge John P. Connors. He pleaded innocent and was released in $100 bail.

yes, even while you are still in your adolescence—the less chance there is of a heart attack at 40 or 50," Stare states.

PREACHER'S KID REBELS

Dear Helen: I am a p.k. My father is a hellfire and damnation preacher and he doesn't believe in "spare the rod." He never talks it out—but how he can spank!

He never praises us, but he can sure tell us where we're going to end up if we even look at a boy. I'm 15, and my sisters are 14 and 15. We can't wear makeup or short skirts and we have to be home before the sun goes down. It's like prison. Our mother died five years ago.

Maybe you'll think I deserve barebottom spankings after my next sentence: I hate my father and wish I would never see him again.

I figured I'd get even with him and went out on the sneak. I climbed through my window after everyone was asleep, and I wore a skirt I'd hemmed up eight inches and makeup I got from my girl friend. We met some boys and went to a beer party, the cops came and arrested us. When my father got to the police station, I had a cigarette in my hand.

He gave me the hardest spanking I'd ever had in my life, not even waiting to get me home, and all the time he kept saying how I'd disgraced him. I don't think he ever cared about me, he was just showing the cops how it wasn't his fault 'cause look how he punishes me.

Now I can't go out of the house the rest of the summer. And I have to pray out loud for the salvation of my soul every night. Do you blame me for wanting to run away and do all the wild things he accuses me of, which so far I haven't done?—PUNISHED P.K.

Dear P.K.: "Blame" isn't the right word. You've had far too much of that already! I can understand why you want to run away—who wouldn't with your kind of "home" life? But why THROW yourself away just to get even? By making your father's predictions come true, you'd only be hurting yourself and turning HIM into a "martyr," which in some perverse way he might enjoy.

To prove him wrong, in the process you may discover the hellfire and damnation has eased off at your house. —H

Dear Helen: I read the letter from "Big Believer" and I was really happy to know there are more of us around.

Last week I had a similar experience, I sort of got messed up with my boy friend. We decided he should come over the next day when my folks weren't home. We figured we loved each other so it was all right I wasn't worried but I wasn't ecstatic.

That night in bed I had a big argument with God. I went to sleep thinking I'd won, as I had no intention of changing my mind.

The next morning I knew — absolutely KNEW — my boy friend wouldn't come over. He didn't. When I talked with him that night, he said he too had had a long discussion with God — and so my boy friend went fishing instead.

Crazy? Yeah, but I'll never say God is impersonal again. He cared enough to win me over against my will!

I'd like to tell you something else. Before my personal miracle, I couldn't identify with God as the Father of us all. What bugged me was how prayers are so stiff and formal with "Thee's, Thine's," etc. and high sounding glorifications. I couldn't dig talking like that, just like I can't read the Bible because it doesn't talk language I understand.

Anyway, one day I got fed up. I was praying but not feeling any relationship. I mean my problem was little, so why go all flowery? I solved it by using plain, everyday school cafeteria English:

Instead of saying "Our Heavenly Father," I said:

"Hey Dad, I love you. You're really groovy. Thanks for the beautiful red roses in the garden, the bluebird in the magnolia tree. You show your love so simple, and I really dig it."

"Say, Dad, I've got a problem. I've got this teacher who's a real slob. Maybe you know him. Anyway, remind me to keep my mouth shut in class, okay?"

"Oh Dad: could you maybe keep an eye on Joe? I think he's taking dope. That's not so good. Maybe you and me can get together and show him the real way to turn on, huh, Dad?"

"Gee, thanks. You're okay. Oh, oh. Mom's yelling at me to turn off the stereo and to go to sleep; 'night. — Peace."

Sound irreverent? Maybe some ministers might think so, but I've found my sound wave to His ear.

Ya know? I've used a lot of for printing an encouraging column, and a big Hurray! for "Big Believer" who knows God is her Friend!—ANOTHER BIG BELIEVER

Dear A.B.B.: You know, you could teach P.K.'s hellfire and damnation father a great deal about TRUE religion. Thanks for a lovely letter. —H
